Folmar Plans To Give City Case To Jury

District Attorney Joel Folmar said this week he hoped to present the facts of the money reported missing from city hall to the August 3 Grand Jury. He explained the investigation is still in progress, and he and his staff had talked with 15 employees or people associated with the city concerning this

"We have a lot to do yet, and we are trying to get our investigation in a posture to present to the next grand jury meeting in Elba on August 3," Folmar said. He stressed that he couldn't say at this time if a penny was stolen from

"On August 3 we will present what information we have to the grand jury and let them decide what to do next. They may want to conduct their own investigation, or may ask us to continue our work, or they may tell us there is no evidence of wrongdoing. . . .whatever they say, we will abide by," Folmar

Last Thursday several city employees were observed entering and leaving the district attorney's office in Elba, and questions by this newspaper revealed that many of the 15 people mentioned by Folmar were in fact interviewed last Thursday. They spent varying amounts of time in the office, from a few minutes to over an hour. Folmar stressed twice during the

MORE REMODELING NEEDED .-- A recently completed remodeling job at Elba's Dairy Queen was in need of another facelift Sunday morning when a car crashed through the front of the establishment. Mrs. C.N. Cook, driving a late model Chevrolet, apparently lost control of her car, according to law enforcement officials, and failed to yield at a stop sign on Farris Avenue where it enters Claxton Avenue. After hitting a northbound car on Claxton, Mrs. Cook finally came to a stop when her car crashed into the front of the Dairy Queen. The other vehicle was driven by Juanita Knight of Birmingham. Mrs. Cook suffered only minor cuts and bruises. Harry Jacobs, manager of the restaurant, said he had to replace three plate-glass windows.

The 5th annual Elba Softball Classic is now history, and last weekend's event was really something to watch. In case you missed it, here is what you missed - 34 games, 740 runs, 733 singles, 79 doubles, 27 triples and 154 home runs! At Legion Field we had 19 games and had 122 homers hit, an Near average of over 6 per game. All the teams played excellent ball, and gave the crowd plenty to cheer about. And we did have good crowds both Friday and Saturday nights. In fact, we had to close the concession stand Saturday night because we totally sold out of everything!

The success of the tourney depends on a lot of folks, not even counting the teams. Special thanks go to all the merchants who donated trophies - The Elba Clipper Dairy will be among 9 teams combehind 14-0 in the first Queen, Miracle Fair, People's Bank, Exchange Bank, Dorsey

Permit law has come into effect there has been consid erable confusion as to why a person cannot get a permi unless they have the needed information to go on said permit. Most of the confu sion comes in where a person is renting the land from someone else and does not know the Section, Township, and Range. There is a simple remedy for this. Before a landowner calls the toll-free number for a burning permit he should call his local Forest Ranger, tell him where he is going to be burning and he will give him the Section, Township and Range. Then he can call the Toll-free number (1-800-922-7688) and get his burning permit in about 45 seconds. The Section, Township and Range must be on all burning permits issued by the Alabam Forestry Commission and a person cannot get one without this information . The Dispatch Office where the toll-free number is located writes burning per-mits for seven counties and loyment rate edged upward to 8.7 percent of the civilian labor force, following April's sharp decline to a revised level of 8.5 percent. Franklin H. James, director of the Alabama Department of In-dustrial Relations, said new entrants and re-entrants to the labor force were primarily responsible for the increase in the number of enemployed. There was relatively little change in industry employment, he Factory increases were nominal, and employment in most major sectors of the non-manufacturing division exhibited only slight fluctuations. Employment in the non-manufacturing division remained well below the year-ago level, however, due to the continuing influence of the national coal miners' strike. Agricultural employment as expected, experienced a seasonal increase. Comparatively, the national unemployment rate increased from 7.0 percent in April to 7.1 percent in May. Alabama's unemployment rate for the previous May measured 8.5 percent, and the national year-ago rate was 7.0 percent.
